

Built for Adventure: The Eastern Ontario SUV Guide

Discover what it takes to drive confidently through Kingston, the Thousand Islands, and beyond.

DESIGNED FOR OUR BACKYARD

Eastern Ontario demands
a vehicle that can effortlessly transition from historic downtown streets to rugged cottage roads in any weather.

The Anatomy of Capability

True adventure readiness is more than aggressive styling—it's a calculated balance of traction, clearance, and versatility.

Optimized volumetric space for gear, family, and unexpected cargo.

Intelligent torque distribution for varying traction levels.

Elevated ground clearance and articulation to clear cottage-road debris.

The Capability Matrix: Finding Your Fit

Match your drivetrain to your Eastern Ontario lifestyle to ensure you have the exact confidence you need.

Command the Winter Months

Advanced terrain management systems read the road thousands of times per second, keeping your family safe on black ice and unplowed routes.

Space Built for Real Life

From hockey gear to camping supplies, modern adventure vehicles adapt seamlessly to your changing cargo needs.

Passenger Mode

Optimized passenger comfort and maximum legroom.

Cargo Mode

Maximum cubic volume for lumber or large gear.

Exterior Mode

High roof-rail weight capacity and easy-load tailgate heights.

Three Common Buyer Blind Spots

Avoid under-equipping for our local winters, misjudging spatial needs, or confusing drivetrain technologies.

Assuming AWD replaces the need for proper, dedicated winter tires on Eastern Ontario ice.

Misjudging daily cargo geometry—failing to account for the space modern, rear-facing car seats actually require.

Confusing an "All-Wheel Drive" commuter system with a "4x4" system built for deep mud and heavy towing.
